Finance

The Adjutant General Office will make a Military Pay in-processing appointment for you soon after your arrival. For CGSS students, however, a centralized in-processing in Bell Hall is scheduled in mid-July.

The Defense Military Pay Office (DMPO) is located in the west end of Bldg. 87 at 823 McClellan Ave. The office is open Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. DMPO In-processing Section phone numbers are: Military Pay at 684-5722, and Travel at 684-5710.

At in-processing you'll prepare the necessary documents to update your military pay account and process your PCS travel claims for you and your family members. If you lose an airline ticket and must buy another one, file a "Lost Ticket Application" with the airlines. When you arrive at Fort Leavenworth, take a copy of the application and receipt for the replacement ticket to the DMPO for reimbursement. You should provide a copy of these items to the Transportation Office Passenger Section.

Documents needed to in-process:

- PCS orders with all amendments.
- Leave Form, DA 31.
- Permissive TDY approval for house hunting (DA 31) stamped/ verified by the Fort Leavenworth Housing Office, if used.
- Plane tickets: government-issued and/or commercially purchased through a government ticket office.
- Lodging receipts and a statement on availability of facilities from the Billeting Office if claiming Temporary Lodging Expense (TLE).
- Private Vehicle Shipping Document (DD Form 788) if claiming travel to pick up government-shipped POV at port.
- Copies of all advances received for pay, travel, airline tickets, DLA, and TDY (if TDY en route).
- Receipts for any item claimed $75 and over.

- Advance Pay Certification/Authorization (DD Form 2560) if requesting advance pay. Specialists and below must have their unit commander's approval.

A Personally Procured Move is a Transportation option that pays you incentive pay for moving yourself. You must make arrangements for a PPM move at the "losing" installation, prior to movement, to be eligible to collect payment. Payment is based on 95 percent of what it would have cost the government to move the same property, less actual expenses and applicable taxes. Claims must be supported with original weigh tickets (empty and full), copies of rental agreements and a list of expenditures.

If you want someone else to receive your property, the person (agent) must be named in writing either on your application for shipment (DD Form 1299), or by informal letter to the individual or to the Transportation Office. Do not name the Transportation Office as the owner's agent.

Household Goods Claims

(http://www.leavenworth.army.mil/osja)

When household goods are delivered, check all items for loss or damage before signing any documents. Be sure to list damages in as much detail as possible while your property is being unloaded. The carrier should give you DD Form 1840 (pink sheet) and ask you to sign the form.

If you discover additional loss or damage after the carrier has left, you may add these items to the reverse side of the DD Form 1840 (DD Form 1840R). This must be completed and submitted to the Staff Judge Advocate Claims Office within 70 days from delivery. Failure to submit the DD Form 1840R to the claims office within 70 days may result in your claim not being paid.

to the Provost Marshal Office on McPherson Avenue. Every vehicle must have liability insurance coverage not less than the minimum prescribed by Kansas law.

Military Affidavit: If you are not a Kansas legal resident, you can avoid paying the annual Kansas personal property tax on your vehicle(s) by completing a Military Affidavit for Personal Property Tax Exemption. These affidavits are available at the Legal Assistance Office on a walk-in basis, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and Thursday noon to 4:30 p.m. The affidavit is also available on the OSJA Web site: http://www.leavenworth.army.mil/osja/legal assistance.htm.

Uniform Policy

The battle dress uniform (BDU) is a field, utility, training, and combat uniform. It is not an all-purpose uniform, so soldiers should normally wear the Class A or B green service uniform off post.

To avoid undue burden or inconvenience, however, soldiers may wear the BDU off post while:

- Commuting back and forth to duty.
- Eating the breakfast and noon-time meal.
- Accomplishing brief and routine errands while traveling to and from work, such as buying gasoline or essential groceries.
- Keeping unplanned appointments of an emergency or unusual nature with the approval of the soldier's supervisor.
- Attending informal meetings and get-togethers.

Soldiers may not wear the BDU off post while:

- In any bar, club, or any establishment whose primary purpose is to serve or sell alcoholic beverages.
- In any off-post establishment after 6 p.m., except to accomplish errands described above.
- While consuming alcoholic beverages off-post.

Soldiers may not wear a combination of military and civilian clothing except as authorized by regulation. For example, soldiers may wear the pullover sweater, windbreaker and all-weather black coat, without insignia, with civilian clothing.

History

F ort Leavenworth, the oldest active Army post west of the Mississippi River, has devoted more than 175 years of service to the nation. During the country's westward expansion, Fort Leavenworth was a forward destination for thousands of soldiers, surveyors, emigrants, American Indians, preachers and settlers who passed through.

History

Fort Leavenworth, the oldest active Army post west of the Mississippi River, has devoted more than 175 years of service to the nation. During the country's westward expansion, Fort Leavenworth was a forward destination for thousands of soldiers, surveyors, emigrants, American Indians, preachers and settlers who passed through.

Situated on high bluffs overlooking the Missouri River, the site of Fort Leavenworth was favored by the native Americans, who used the river as a trade route and hunted bison on the plains to the west. Archeological evidence on post suggests that the area has been periodically inhabited by people over about 10,000 years.

The first Europeans to explore the area were probably 18th century French fur traders. Fort de Cavagnial was established in 1744 as a trading post and as a base for exploration southwest into Spanish territory. The fort was abandoned in 1764 when the territory was ceded to the Spanish.

Captains Meriwether Lewis and William Clark saw the remains of Fort de Cavagnial on July 2, 1804, as they led the Corps of Discovery up the Missouri River into the Louisiana Purchase. The expedition celebrated Independence Day north of present-day Fort Leavenworth at the mouth of Independence Creek, near present-day Atchison, Kan. The expedition also stopped near the fort on the return trip in September 1806.

Col. Henry Leavenworth, with the officers and men of the 3rd Infantry Regiment from Jefferson Barracks at St. Louis, Mo., established Fort Leavenworth in 1827.

For 30 years, Fort Leavenworth was the chief base of operations on the Indian frontier. In 1839, Col. S. W. Kearney marched against the Cherokees with 10 companies of dragoons, the largest U.S. mounted force ever assembled. Throughout the war with Mexico, Fort Leavenworth was the outfitting post for the Army of the West.

During these early years, soldiers from Fort Leavenworth protected wagon trains hauling supplies over the Santa Fe, Oregon and other trails to most forts, posts and military camps of the West, some as far as the Pacific Ocean.

When the Kansas Territory was organized in 1854, Governor Andrew Reeder set up executive offices on post and lived for a short time in the quarters now known as "The Rookery."

At the outbreak of the Civil War, Camp Lincoln was established on post as a reception and training station for Kansas volunteers. News of the approach of Confederate Gen. Sterling Price prompted construction of Fort Sully, a series of earthworks for artillery emplacements on Hancock Hill, overlooking what is Fort Leavenworth now the National Cemetery. But Price's forces never reached Fort Leavenworth, having met defeat at Westport, Mo., which is now part of Kansas City. During its long history, the post was never subject to enemy attack.

For three decades following the war, the Army's chief mission was control of the American Indian tribes on the Western plains. Between 1865 and 1891, the Army had more than 1,000 combat engagements with Apache, Modoc, Cheyenne, Ute, Nez Perce, Comanche, Kiowa, Kickapoo and other tribes.

In 1866, the U.S. Congress authorized the formation of four black regiments—the 24th and 25th Infantry Regiments and the 9th and 10th Cavalry Regiments. The 10th Cavalry Regiment was formed at Fort Leavenworth under the command of Col. Benjamin H. Grierson. Today, a monument stands at Fort Leavenworth in tribute to the Buffalo Soldiers of the 9th and 10th Cavalry Regiments.

The late 19th century also saw the origination of some of today's landmarks. The Victorian home at No. 1 Scott Ave., built in 1861 as the residence of the arsenal commander, is now the residence of the commanding general of the Combined Arms Center and Fort Leavenworth.

The United States Disciplinary Barracks was established in 1875.

The fort's first Catholic Church was built in 1871, and was later replaced by St. Ignatius Chapel in 1889. St. Ignatius Chapel was destroyed by fire in December 2001. The first Protestant chapel, Memorial Chapel, was built by prison labor in 1878 of stone quarried on post.

In 1881, Gen. William T. Sherman established the School of Application for Cavalry and Infantry. That school evolved into the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College.

World War I was the first opportunity to evaluate the impact of Sherman's school. Graduates excelled in planning complex American Expeditionary Forces operations. By the end of the war, they dominated staffs throughout the AEF.

In the years between the World Wars, graduates included such officers as Dwight D. Eisenhower, Omar N. Bradley and George S. Patton. During World War II, some 19,000 officers completed various courses at Fort Leavenworth. By the end of 1943, commanders and staffs of 26 infantry, airborne and cavalry divisions had trained as teams at the school.

In 1946, the school was given its current name. In 1959, the college moved to the newly built J. Franklin Bell Hall on Arsenal Hill. In 1985, the Howard K. Johnson wing was added to house the Combined Arms and Services Staff School. Eisenhower Hall was dedicated in 1994. Classes for the School of Advanced Military Studies and the School for Command Preparation, as well as the Combined Arms Research Library, are located in Eisenhower Hall.

Fort Leavenworth continues to be on the leading edge of the Army's future. The community's pride in its history of service to the Army and the nation is matched by its readiness to meet the challenges of the future.

National Cemetery

The Fort Leavenworth National Cemetery is one of the first 12 national cemeteries established by Abraham Lincoln on July 17, 1862. Veterans since the War of 1812 have been laid to rest in the cemetery. One veteran of the War of 1812 is the cemetery's most famous occupant, Col. Henry Leavenworth, who gave his name to the fort, the town, the county and the cemetery. Others buried in the cemetery include 10 Medal of Honor recipients, seven Confederate prisoners of war, two soldiers killed in Operation Desert Storm and one soldier killed in Operation Iraqi Freedom. Although there is no longer space for new burial sites, burials frequently take place for those who already have family members interred in the cemetery.

Mission

Mission

The Combined Arms Center and Fort Leavenworth are engaged in the mission of preparing the Army and its leaders for war. Fort Leavenworth is the Army's center for excellence in combined arms education, doctrine, and leader development.

Combined Arms Center

(http://www.leavenworth.army.mil)

The mission of the Combined Arms Center (CAC) is to educate officers in the art of command and staff functions of the combined arms at the tactical level, and to educate selected officers in the operational art of war. CAC has responsibility for writing the doctrine for warfighting at the division and corps levels. CAC has a training development function for leader development and battle command, and for experimenting with the concepts, methods, procedures and means of battle command. In addition, CAC is responsible for providing vigorous training exercises for commanders and staffs, from brigade through corps levels, in the exercise of battle command.

The Combined Arms Center employs four major subordinate elements to accomplish its mission tasks related to leader development, Army doctrine, collective training and battle command. These agencies are the Command and General Staff College, Combined Arms Center – Training, the Combined Arms Doctrine Directorate, and the Training and Doctrine Command Program Integration Office/Battle Command.

CAC is commanded by a lieutenant general who serves as the TRADOC Deputy Commanding General for Combined Arms, the Commander of the Combined Arms Center and Fort Leavenworth, and the Commandant of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College. He also serves as the Director, Battle Command Battle Laboratory.

Command and General Staff College

(http://cgsc.leavenworth.army.mil)

The Command and General Staff College (CGSC) is the Army's senior tactical school. It develops officers able to lead fighting units at the tactical and operational levels of war. CGSC annually trains more than 22,000 officers through its resident and nonresident programs. Since 1881, the CGSC has maintained the tradition of qualifying officers for any duty or responsibility they may encounter today or in the future. (http://cgsc.leavenworth.army.mil)

The Command and General Staff College consists of the Center for Army Leadership and four schools for training officers: the Command and General Staff School, the Combined Arms and Services Staff School, the School of Advanced Military Studies and the School of Command Preparation.

The Command and General Staff School's Intermediate Level Education course is attended by nearly 1,100 mid-career officers (majors and some promotable captains) each year. ILE educates selected officers in the values of the profession of arms, and in the conduct of military operations during peace, conflict, and war, with emphasis at corps and division levels. Students include Army active and Reserve component officers, international officers, and officers from the other services within the U.S. armed forces. (http://cgsc.leav enworth.army.mil/dsa/)

The Combined Arms and Services Staff School, commonly known as CAS3, is an Army officer's first experience at the CGSC. Captains attend the six-week course to develop skills necessary to serve as staff officers with the Army in the field. The CAS3 product is a captain who is a leader possessing the requisite skills to be an effective staff officer. (http://cgsc.leavenworth.army.mil/cas3/)

The School of Advanced Military Studies (SAMS) trains officers in the art and science of military operations and strategy at the tactical, operational, and theater strategic levels of war. The school administers the Advanced Operational Art Studies Fellowship Program, a senior service college fellowship, and the Advanced Military Studies Program, a second year of intermediate, master's level education. (http://cgsc.leavenworth.army.mil/sams/)

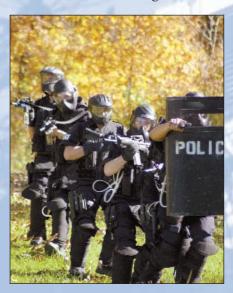

The School of Command Preparation (SCP) conducts pre-command courses for battalion through brigade level active and Reserve component command selectees, military and civilian Acquisition Corps project managers and their spouses. (http://cgsc.leavenworth.army.mil/scp)

The Center for Army Leadership (CAL) develops and integrates Armywide programs and initiatives in leader development, conducts leadership research and assessment, and leader education and training support. CAL conducts leadership training for the Command and General Staff Officer Course and Department of the Army civilians. (http://cgsc.leavenworth.army.mil/cal/)

Military Review is the Army's professional journal, whose mission is to provide a forum for the open exchange of ideas on military subjects and issues; to focus on concepts, doctrine and warfighting at the tactical and operational levels of war; to provide a forum for discussing leadership and military history; and to support the education, training and doctrine development missions of the Combined Arms Center and the Command and General Staff College.

From its origin in 1922 as the Instructor's Summary of Military Articles, the journal has evolved into today's Military Review, published in English, Spanish and Portuguese, and read in more than 100 countries.(http://www-cgsc.army.mil/milrev/)

The Combined Arms Research Library (CARL) is a comprehensive reference and research center located at in the south wing of Eisenhower Hall. The library supports the Command and General Staff College and the research of the Combined Arms Center, as well as the needs of family members, residents and employees of Fort Leavenworth, retirees, and military scholars worldwide.

The library holds more than 230,000 books, as well as large collections of other media such as microfilm, video and audio tapes. CARL provides access to the Internet and many commercial and government databases. Primary emphasis in the collections is military art, science and history. Other significant subject areas covered in depth include general history, international relations and leadership, as well as archival and unique special collections typical of a large research library.

A general collection (previously the Post Library), composed of fiction, children's books and popular nonfiction works, is incorporated into CARL. Children's story hours are offered weekly. (http://cgsc.leavenworth.army.mil/carl/index.asp)

Combined Arms Center – Training

The Combined Arms Center – Training (CAC-T) is responsible for combined arms training at the combat training centers and TRADOC supporting organizations. CAC-T provides oversight for the Battle Command Training Program, the Center for Army Lessons Learned, National Simulation Center, Collective Training Directorate, and the Combat Training Center Directorate at Fort Leavenworth, and the Army Joint Support Team at Hurlburt Field, Fla.

The Battle Command Training Program (BCTP) provides realistic and challenging command and control training to Army corps, divisions, brigades and installation staffs. BCTP assists in improving Army doctrine, training, organizations, materiel, and leadership. (http://bctp.leavenworth.army.mil)

The Center for Army Lessons Learned (CALL) provides timely and relevant lessons learned, tactics, techniques, procedures and research material to soldiers and Army units around the world. The CALL deploys Combined Arms Assessment Teams (CAATs) to realworld contingency and major Army training events to observe operations and collect operational documents. CAAT members collaborate with Lessons Learned Division analysts to develop lessons based on the first-hand experiences of soldiers and leaders in the field. These lessons are disseminated across the Army in the form of articles, newsletters, and bulletins to improve individual and collective performance, shape doctrine, and share information. CALL is also leading the way in digital information technologies and electronic data and records management as TRADOC's project office for the University After Next, a knowledge system designed to support the knowledge dominance requirements of the Army After Next. Youth Education and Activities

Being proud of our children is important, and professional childcare, youth sports, dance, arts, and many more activities provide the needs and interests for Fort Leavenworth's youth and parents. Fort Leavenworth Schools USD 207, which boasts a superior reputation nationwide, is part of the Kansas State Department of Education.

School Age Education

Children of military personnel who live on-post attend Fort Leavenworth schools for kindergarten through ninth grade. Eisenhower, MacArthur and Bradley Elementary Schools are the neighborhood schools for students attending Kindergarten through grade six. Students in grades seven through nine attend Patton Junior High School.

Senior high school students attend Leavenworth High School, which is part of the city school system. Fort Leavenworth provides bus transportation to and from the high school for post residents.

When students live off post, they will find a number of public and parochial schools that vary in size, opening and closing dates, fees, curriculum and other details. You can learn more about area school facilities and enrollment from the board of education of the school district in which you will reside. (Area schools' addresses and phone numbers are included later in this section.)

School Requirements of the State of Kansas

Age Requirements for Kindergarten. A child who is five years old on or before Aug. 31 of the school year is eligible for kindergarten in Kansas. There can be no exceptions to this state law.

A child who will be six years of age on or before Aug. 31 of the school year is eligible for first grade. Any child who completed a kindergarten course in Kansas, or who attended first grade in another state, maintained by a public school district or by an accredited private, denominational or parochial school is eligible to attend first grade in Kansas, regardless of age.

Enrollment Requirements. Bring to enrollment the child's social security number, birth certificate, immunization record, report cards from last school attended, any special education records you have, completed physical form if new to Kansas schools and age 8 or younger.

Immunization Requirements. Kansas law requires that any student entering school for the first time in Kansas must present certification from a licensed physician that he or she has received—or is in the process of receiving—immunization against mumps, diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles, and rubella (German measles).

Exceptions can be made if immunization would seriously endanger the child's life or health, or for reasons of a religious nature. In these cases, a certification from a licensed physician must state the condition of the child to be tested, or the child must have a written objection on religious grounds. The certification is to be on Kansas Department of Health and Environment/Kansas

State Department of Education Form M1-62, Kansas Certification of Immunization (two-part green form). The form should not be dated prior to June 1 of the academic year in which the student participates.

If you arrive in the summer months, children's shot records can be screened and forms annotated by Munson Army Community Health Center nurses at PAIR Day activities. Otherwise, this form is available at Munson Army Health Center.

Physical Examination Requirement. Kansas law requires all children entering Kansas schools for the first time who are age 8 or younger to have a completed physical form on file with the school in which they are enrolling. Elementary school physicals can be on any health care provider's form, or a form can be obtained at the school.

Athletic Physical Requirement.

Kansas law requires that a student pass a physical exam before taking part in interschool athletics or cheerleading. A statement signed by a physician, certifying that the student is physically fit to participate, will be filed with the school.

The physical exam must be taken after May 1 of each academic year. The results of the physical exam and the physician's statement must be documented on Kansas State High School Activities Association Form, Physician's and Parent's Certificate for Athletes, Cheerleaders and Kayette Campers—Boys and Girls Form. Forms can be picked up at the Junior High School office or the District Superintendent's office.

The Fort Leavenworth School Liaison Officer is available to assist families moving into the area with school registration, high school enrollment, special education transition and other educational issues. Call 684-1654 or visit the SLO office in the Garrison Headquarters at 600 Thomas Ave.

Fort Leavenworth Schools (Unified District 207)

(http://www.ftlvn.com/)

Fort Leavenworth schools are considered to be among the best in the nation and at the top of the educational system in Kansas.

The Fort Leavenworth School District is a Kansas state unified school district under the supervision of the Kansas State Department of Education. It is not a part of any Army or DoD school system. For any information, contact the district superintendent's office, at (913) 651-7373.

School Calendar. The school year normally begins in mid-August and ends in late May. The annual school calendar is coordinated with the Command and General Staff Officer Course calendar. Vacation periods are coordinated, and Fort Leavenworth schools end before CGSS graduation.

Enrollment. Students residing on the military, federal penitentiary or national cemetery reservations are eligible to attend the post schools. Children arriving during the summer can be registered during enrollment day at their neighborhood school in early August. Those arriving during the school year can go directly to the school to enroll.

Students living off post are eligible to attend Fort Leavenworth schools with a housing letter that guarantees quarters on post. Parents must provide transportation. The Board of Education and Superintendent may allow an exception to policy in other circumstances, which are evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

Accreditation. All Fort Leavenworth schools are fully accredited by the Kansas State Department of Education and also by the North Central Association Commission on Schools.

Facilities. The post's three elementary schools and one junior high school are modern and well equipped with cafeterias, libraries, music rooms, gymnasiums, and special rooms to meet the needs of the curriculum. Each school has fully equipped computer learning centers offering hands-on experiences to all students.

Special Services. The Fort Leavenworth School District participates in a six-district special education cooperative. Eligible students can receive speech therapy, school psychological services, and personal and social adjustment assistance.

Specialized teachers provide services for the hearing impaired, for the orthopedically handicapped, and for gifted children. Programs are available for the educable mentally handicapped, and for the severely multiple handicapped. Learning disabilities resource rooms, classrooms for occupational therapy, and hospital and homebound instruction are also available. For more information in any special education program, contact the Leavenworth County Special Education Cooperative, 730 First Terrace, Lansing, Kan., or call (913) 727-1755.

Kansas Guidelines for Gifted Education. Each school has a preassessment committee of teachers and administrators to screen potential gifted program participants according to district and state guidelines. Parents, teachers, students, or administrators may make referrals to the pre-assessment committee.

Criteria for placement in the gifted program vary from state to state, since gifted education is not federally mandated. Sometimes a student will qualify for gifted services in one state and not in another. For more information on Kansas' criteria for gifted placement, contact the superintendent's office, at (913) 651-7373, or any school office.

Patton Junior High School. Academic opportunities are complemented by Student Council, yearbook, football, basketball, track, volleyball, wrestling, cheerleading and pep club.

Transportation. Most Fort Leavenworth elementary students walk to their neighborhood school. Some students attending Eisenhower Elementary are given free bus service to school because they live too far away to walk to school. The majority of Patton Junior High students receive free busing to school also because of their distance from school. Students living in Normandy and Osage Village are within walking distance to Patton.

Senior high school students who reside on post can receive bus service to Leavenworth High School in Leavenworth. The post Transportation Office coordinates this service and can be reached at 684-5637.

Local Area

E ver since the city of Leavenworth—the first city of Kansas—was established, there has been a close relationship and harmony between the city and the post. Like the military installation, Leavenworth takes pride in its rich history. In fact, you sense the overwhelming pride that flourishes throughout all the communities surrounding the Best Hometown in the Army.

Leavenworth, Kansas

Leavenworth became nationally known in the mid-19th century as the jumping-off point for the opening of the West. Buffalo Bill Cody spent part of his youth here and later worked in the area as a Pony Express rider and Army scout.

The Leavenworth special events calendar also includes the St. Patrick's Day Parade, August's Leavenworth County Fair, September's Riverfest, and the Living Christmas program at the Leavenworth County Museum.

Another area landmark is Leavenworth's U.S. Penitentiary, dating from 1906. It took more than 11 years to complete. Some infamous criminals incarcerated there were Al Capone, Pretty Boy Floyd and the Birdman of Alcatraz.

Two special appeals of Leavenworth are its excellent public library and the Riverfront Community Center with its Olympic-size indoor pool and indoor track. There is a small shopping mall in addition to the downtown shopping area.

Some of the clubs that can keep you occupied are: civic, business and professional organizations, bike club, Carnegie Arts Center, quilting groups, River City Community Theater, Society for Creative Anachronism, Ski Patrol, Toastmasters, artist associations, and many others.

The city of Leavenworth offers a friendly small town environment and a full range of services to complement your immediate needs when arriving in the area—and throughout your stay at Fort Leavenworth. The main city number for Leavenworth is (913) 682-9201.

Lansing, Kansas

Lansing is one of the fastest growing communities in northeast Kansas. Lansing is located just south of Leavenworth and 20 minutes from downtown Kansas City.

Residents enjoy the comfort of a bedroom community lifestyle, while taking advantage of the economic, entertainment and cultural opportunities offered in a major metropolitan city. The community takes pride in offering friendly neighborhood living and schools that rank among the top in the nation in academics and opportunities for children.

Lansing's growing pride is reflected in a significant local effort to establish and advance community services, including access to high quality city services and health care facilities, as well as social, cultural and recreational opportunities. Lansing was selected by the State of Kansas as a Community of Excellence for the year 2000. This award recognizes Lansing for outstanding community service and development.

A bit of the past has been saved by a group of Lansing history enthusiasts, who dreamed of preserving the old Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe train depot, which now sits in central Lansing. Memories, photographs and relics of Lansing's early days are being preserved there for everyone to enjoy.

Also in Lansing is the Lansing Correctional Facility, romanticized in movies and fiction. Made from Kansas limestone, the prison looks like a mighty medieval fortress, attracting interested passersby for more than a century.

Contact Lansing City Hall at (913) 727-3233 or visit the city's Web site at www.lansing.ks.us for more information on how the city can serve any of your needs.

Kansas City

Sophisticated and hometown friendly, modern and historic, fast paced and easy-going, Kansas City is all these things and more on both sides of the Missouri River. Sports, entertainment, shopping, restaurants and history add up to create an exciting neighbor for Fort Leavenworth.

First settled by fur traders, Kansas City's development into a transportation hub was spurred by westward roaming pioneers and eastward overland cattle drive. Since the mid-1800s, Kansas City has offered hospitality, culture and entertaining pastimes to the Midwest. This remains true today.

The Kansas City business scene also echoes the past. It's a transportation hub and distribution center for many firms. Major businesses include greeting card production, farm equipment distribution, food storage and distribution, hard winter wheat marketing, telecommunications center, underground storage, and manufacture of airplane instrument landing systems.

Diverse, strong industries make Kansas City economically healthy and able to support excellent schools and a wide range of arts and recreation.

Sports fans can enjoy Kansas City professional baseball and football teams at the Truman Sports Complex, and ice hockey at Kemper Arena. Kansas City also offers two professional soccer teams, indoor and outdoor.

Discounted tickets for many Kansas City attractions are available through the post's Arts, Crafts and Ticket office.

Shoppers will delight in their choice of large, modern enclosed malls throughout the city, discount centers and factory outlets for a variety of bargains.

A variety of music clubs, art galleries, museums, state theatrical performances and weekend events highlight the cultural activities of the city.

Exciting opportunities in recreation and arts, quality colleges and universities, excellent health care facilities, and warm, friendly people are the special qualities that Kansas City and the Leavenworth-Lansing community will contribute to your assignment in the heartland.

Platte City, Missouri

Platte City is a pretty town on the Platte River, located just north of Kansas City International Airport, and just across the river from Fort Leavenworth. While its historical sites attract area visitors, many of its residential districts attract Fort Leavenworth families.

Atchison, Kansas

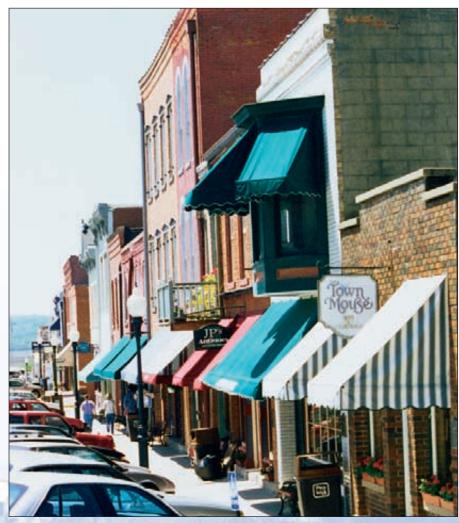

Located 30 miles north of Fort Leavenworth, Atchison was an important center of overland freighting in the mid-1800s. It was the starting point of the famed Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Rail Company. It is also the birthplace of famed aviator Amelia Earhart.

Many 19th century mansions and buildings reflecting Old World charm are located on the beautiful Missouri River bluffs. A walking and driving tour takes you by many of these sites. Five museums, antiques, specialty shops and restaurants make Atchison a great place to explore.

Parkville, Missouri

Nine miles northwest of downtown Kansas City and a short drive from Fort Leavenworth, Parkville draws visitors to its antique and crafts shops, historic Park College and scenic views of the Missouri River.

Weston, Missouri

Only nine miles from Fort Leavenworth, historic Weston was a thriving river port and wagon outfitting post until a flood in the late 1800s moved the course of the Missouri River a mile away from the town.

Weston is home to McCormick Distilling Company, one of America's oldest distilleries, and the only tobacco market west of the Mississippi.

Weston has more than 40 upscale shops that provide fine dining, antiques, unique gifts, art, clothing, jewelry, home decor, toys, children's fashions, and confections in the preserved 1840s downtown area. When you add a winery, four bed and breakfast inns, a 1,000 plus acre state park with campsites, hiking and biking trails, a ski area, an orchard and an educational farm, it makes Weston a great place for family visits.

Father Christmas may be seen on the streets of Weston each weekend from Thanksgiving to Christmas with greetings for the young and the old.

St. Joseph, Missouri

St. Joseph is another historic city with links to the development of the West. It's the home of the Pony Express, the historic 2,000-mile horseback mail route to California, and the place where outlaw Jesse James died.

St. Joseph has many museums which herald different aspects of its past. Its attractions include the Spirit of St. Joseph paddle wheeler, the Stetson hat factory, Chocolate Mall, antique and craft stores, bed and breakfast inns, numerous restaurants, boating and aquatic services at the marina, and much more only 35 miles from the post.

You should plan for a rental security deposit, usually one month's rent in advance, and minimum six-month lease.

When required, the water deposit is $60 for the cities of Leavenworth and Lansing.

complex issues clear solutions

he mission of our armed services affects the well-being not only of the men and women who serve, but of the millions of citizens around the world. In this age of transformation, leaders and government officials must make critical decisions and deliver results — to maintain a trained and ready military... protect our national interests at home and abroad... equip and train our current and future force... move personnel and equipment safely from place to place... and conduct research that will shape the future military.

Doing this well requires both keen strategic insight and deep technology expertise. It requires both a commitment to the greater good and the courage to make tough decisions.

Booz Allen Hamilton has served the US military community since 1940. We understand its mission and the challenges it faces today and tomorrow. We have the capabilities and expertise to help solve the most critical problems. Our Leavenworth-based team offers a wide range of technological and operational expertise spanning all aspects of Doctrine, Organization, Training, Materiel, Leadership, Personnel and Facilities for TRADOC, the Army, and the Joint Community.

Booz Allen Hamilton combines strategy with technology and insight with action, working with clients to deliver results today that endure tomorrow.

This number must be entered when accessing off-post services (96, 98, or 99), whether for voice, data, or fax. No dial tone will be heard after dialing the trunk access code. The switch will prompt you for the PIN after the area code and telephone number is entered. The PIN may be entered anytime during the announcement or after it is complete.
- 2) Toll free numbers (800, 877 or 888-XXX-XXXX, etc.) can be accessed by direct dialing 1-800, 877 or 888-XXX-XXXX, etc., (you must enter your PIN when requested).

- 3) Use FTS-2000 (98) when dialing outside the Fort Leavenworth, Leavenworth, Lansing area. You must dial the appropriate area code.
- 4) Overseas commercial numbers can be called by dialing 98, dial "011" + Country Code + City Code + Number, then when requested enter your PIN.
- 5) Global DSN access is available for Fort Leavenworth. The Global DSN directory is located on the CAC & FT Leavenworth Home Page under Staff and Phone Directories. It is broken down into geographical locations, i.e., Pacific, Europe, Canada, etc. To dial overseas direct you must dial the DSN prefix "96," the DSN geographical code at the top of each directory page (314 = Europe, 315 = Pacific, etc.), the 7 digit phone number and your FT Leavenworth PIN; for example the operator in Germany is "96-314-430-1110 (your PIN").

TORNADO ALERT CARDINAL RULES

Use common sense to assess your situation and decide what to do. Apply these guidelines to make a good decision for your family.

TORNADO WATCH - PREPARE

- 1. Assemble the family.
- 2. Prepare to take shelter in your basement.
- 3 If no basement, move to the vicinity of a community shelter, if feasible.
- 4. Leave large buildings with vast unsupported ceilings such as auditoriums and gymnasiums.
- 5. Terminate outdoor activities.
- 6. Monitor TV and radio for storm condition updates.
- 7. Stay indoors and out of automobiles.

TORNADO WARNING – WHERE TO GO (LISTED IN PRIORITY)

- 1. A basement, if immediately available.
- 2. A designated community tornado shelter, if immediately available.
- 3. A small ground level room or closet, away from glass (only if no basement is available and movement to a public shelter is not practical).
- A depression, ditch or ravine. Lie flat to lower your profile.
 (CAUTION some such locations are prone to flash flooding. Avoid these.)
- 5. If in an automobile, park immediately and seek shelter. Do not try to "outrun" a tornado.
